GreenEnergyWorld – International trading portal for wind and solar projects with new web presence

GreenEnergyWorld gets investors with project developers and operators of wind turbines and solar farms together. Central medium is an international project market on the internet. The newly designed web presence of the young service company can be found under www.green-energy-world.com.

„Find the right partner, who really suits you“

Partner agencies advertise with such or similar slogans in large-sized ads. An ancient and never ending market. But not only men and women have agency demands.

Mediation of Investors – Project Developers

Investors search for attractive projects, operators and project developers for capital. But in a young, worldwide booming market of renewable energies, mediation processes still shuffle. GreenEnergyWorld wants to release this market brake. There are several billion Euros of investment capital worldwide, ready to be used for the construction of renewable energy power plants.

Connecting capital and ideas – connecting visions – that is what the Berlin based company qualifies for.

Project developers, operators and investors are able to converge through the trading portal www.green-energy-world.com fast and goal oriented.

At present GreenEnergyWorld is focused on marketing and sales services for wind and solar farms. Almost 50 projects – from so called 'greenfields' up to turnkey and operating farms – are offered currently.

Co-operation Partners throughout Europe

What makes marketing services of GreenEnergyWorld specific, are a pan European co-operation partner system and a network of international experts of the renewable energy sector. This includes assessors, manufacturers, construction companies, lawyers. This allows GreenEnergyWorld to support their clients through additional services and to enhance their projects.

The accurate composition and check-up of the data and comprehensive project exposés prepared by GreenEnergyWorld are the key to a successful sale of every solar and wind farm. This also includes a selective address to investors and fast data access from the project market at www.green-energy-world.com.

High Quality Standards

Essential for the efficiency GreenEnergyWorld's services are profound knowledge and experience of project development in domestic and foreign markets. This experience enables the employees to support clients at financing and project or share sales cross-nationally and successfully.

High quality standards for the project preparation characterise GreenEnergyWorld. Each exposé is the result of a detailed data assessment. All exposés are compiled carefully and describe decision relevant data of the project and the calculation of profitability.

International Link between Project Developers and Investors

The co-operation with different European partners enables GreenEnergyWorld to contact project developers and buyers directly in the several country markets. The trading platform www.green-energy-world.com acts as an international link between local project developers and global investors. At the moment wind and solar projects from Germany, Bulgaria, Italy, Romania, Poland, Greece and Spain are being offered.
